Though he didn't compose the original, the Scottish poet, Robert Burns is credited with the authorship of the traditional song of New Year's Eve, Auld Lang Syne. Robert Burns also authored another poem that contains a line that has become a modern proverb – “the best laid plans of mice and men, sometimes go awry.” The current application of his words strays somewhat from his emphasis in the full poem, that the mouse will not remember the difficulties of life as much as the man will. For the purpose of this article, the modern meaning will suffice. The “best laid plans” in question center on the month of March, and several events that were listed on the original school calendar have needed to be shifted to a different date.

- ◆ First, Grandparent's Day, originally scheduled for March 28 has been moved to March 7th because of a scheduling conflict that caused HCA Drama week to be moved. On March 7th, the elementary students will share selections that they have been practicing this year. March 7th, though will remain a full day due to it being a day of exams for middle school and high school students.
- ◆ Also, the HCA drama department's performance of Seussical will occur on the evenings of March 28th and March 30th. The performance that the HCA students attend will be in the morning of March 28th, a Thursday, because March 29th is Good Friday and there is no school on that day. The decision for this week came from the Alhambra because of other performers that the Alhambra had scheduled who needed the week typically reserved for the HCA performance.
- ◆ With these two events on Thursday mornings, the regular chapel schedule has been adjusted as well. On Wednesday, March 6th, the students will participate in “mixed chapel” – the older students go to the classrooms of the younger students to lead in Bible study and worship. The chapel service for the last week of March will also occur on a Wednesday, March 27th.

A few other calendar updates that may be of importance to you:

- ◆ Prom is set for April 20th.
- ◆ The visit from the ACSI accreditation team is from April 28-May 1.
- ◆ The next Parent Feedback meeting will be on January 22nd at 6:00 in the lunchroom.

As always, I ask that you cover this school, students, and stakeholders with prayer.
